HARRISON A CANDIDATE.

Bis Wohlling Course About a Ren-There can be no doubt that Benjamin Harrison is a candidate for re-election. His every set recently would indicate that he is angling for delegates to the Convention in 1892. About three weeks ago the President nominated Mrs. Mary Wright for postmaster at Hopkinsville, Ky., but before the Senate could confirm her he asked the Senate Committee on Postoffices to hold the nomination until further notice. It now leaks out that several influential Kentucky politicians gave Harrison the tip that he read not expect any delegates from the Blue Grass State, unless he withdraws Mrs. Wright's name.

mand in Court The Frank Ward case was set down for the second time for a hearing this morning, but the arguments in the Beall trial crowded it over. Mr. Ward was brought to the City Hall in a carringe about 10 o'clock and for several hours was retained in the bailist's room in custody of Deputy United States Marshal Jim Springman. He had his son with him the most of the time and was permitted to talk with a number of his friends who called in.

Ward comes far from being the man Ward comes far from being the man that he was before being continued. He is much depressed in spirits, talks in a rambling sort of manner, and expresses a desire that his case be disposed of as soon as possible, as he feels that he cannot labor under the suspense much longer. It is now understood that a motion for a continuance will be asked for, and, if granted, arguments will be made by his counsel on a motion for admission to ball. Should this motion fall, the trial will probably be proceeded with. As it is now, there are only fourteen eligible jurors, and a large panel will have to be drawn from which to select a jury to try the case.

At 2 o'clock Judge Bingham gave notice that the witnesses in the Ward case would be excused until to morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Concluding the Grave Robbing Case, Dr. Beall's own statement concluded the evidence for the defense in the Criminal Court yesterday. He got very much mixed up when it came to the cross-examination. His explanation as to why he visited the Potter's Field so often was looked upon as being very weak, as was also his excuse for not going to headquarters and claiming his horse and buggy. A witness in re-buttal testified to having seen Dr. Beall visit the Potter's Field and mark certain graves. The arguments by the counsel were partially completed before

The closing argument of District At-torney Armes began shortly after 2 o'clock. The case will be given to the jury this afternoon.

STRANGE EXPERIENCE,

A Toledo Man Lives Through an Age in Thirty Seconds. A Toledo Bee man was sitting in an office on Adams street recently chatting with the occupant, a well known lawyer, when the conversation turned to dreams and the rapidity with which the brain worked during sle p. "Yes," remarked the legal gentleman, "the brain is a marvelous contrivance. If that fact ever skipped my memory it was brought forcibly to mind several days since. I will tell you how it happened. I was suffering with a thumping toothache, and resolved to have the offender out. Accordingly I made for the nearest dentist's while my determination was strong, and dropping determination was strong, and dropping into a dental chair, answered to his 'Will you take gas?' in the affirmative. It was my initial experience with the fluid, but I inhaled it without experiencing any peculiar sensation at first. "I noticed presently, however, that the office clock ticked abnormally loud; in fact, it was soon pounding away like one of Krupp's glant hummers. Pi-nally I drifted away into another State and found myself in a strange city. Several months passed and numerous trival things happened which I remem ber vividly, even the minutest details Somehow or other I got in with a fuscrowd of young men, and one night, during a quarrel over a game of poker. I shot and fatally wounded one of my

I was arrested, and after the usual preliminary proceedings my case came up for trial in the Court of Common Pleas. The trial was a lengthy one. I remember well the district attorney's summing up and the strong defense my attorney made in my behalf, but without avail, for the court sentenced me to be executed by electricity, a strange and fearful death. My lawyer got a stay of the execution of the sentence, and the case was carried to the Cheuit Court. Another lengthy trial ensued, concluding by the judge confirming the decision of the lower court, and I again be came reconciled to the thought of being executed. My lawyer was unitring, and finally made another attempt to save my life, carrying the case to the Supreme Court. I think something like a year and a half ciapsed before the case came to trial for the third time.

"However, its conclusion hore no fruit to my liking, for I was again senapent many weary days in prison, and if was a relief when the day set apart for my death came around. I awoke early bathed, sie a heavty ment, and at 10 o'clock, when the turnkey beckoned me to follow him to the death room l was wholly prepared to depart this life. I scated revisit in the somewhat clumsy chair and my arms and legs were strapped lightly down. my head, and although I didn't look up I know well that the connection was made that would seen make me a hu mun conductor. I closed my eyes, but opened them just in time to see the julier drop a white handkerchief. At the same instant the current was turned on. A dreadful wrenching, berming puln shot through my system and then — and then 1 came to. The touth had but been pulled. I was under the to-Buence of gas just thirty seconds. DETECTIVE BLOCK'S CASE.

New Developments - Charges Against Baillift Springman, There are no new developments in the Block case to day. He has not yet reperied for duty to Lieutenant Vernon, and probably will not do so. He has not determined yet as to what he will do at the termination of his ten days leave of absence.

Detective Block was to-day engaged in preparing affidavits implicating Deputy United States Marshall Jim Springman in the Monroe Lower-stein imbrogilo. Mr. Springman declares emphatically that he has a clean record, and "one that Mr. Block cannot break down with a stock of affidavits as high as the Bible The fact of the matter is that the fight has resolved itself into a conflict as to the responsibility and veracity of Block on the one hand and Springman on the ther.
